TAX MANAGEMENT MARKET WITH COVID-19 IMPACT ANALYSIS

GLOBAL FORECAST TO 2026

REPORT BROCHURE WITH SAMPLE PAGES

INTRODUCTION

1.1 INTRODUCTION TO COVID-19

COVID-19 is an infectious disease caused by the novel coronavirus. Largely unknown before its outbreak in Wuhan, China, in December 2019, COVID-19 moved from being a regional crisis to a global pandemic in just a few weeks. The World Health Organization (WHO) declared COVID-19 a pandemic on March 11, 2020.

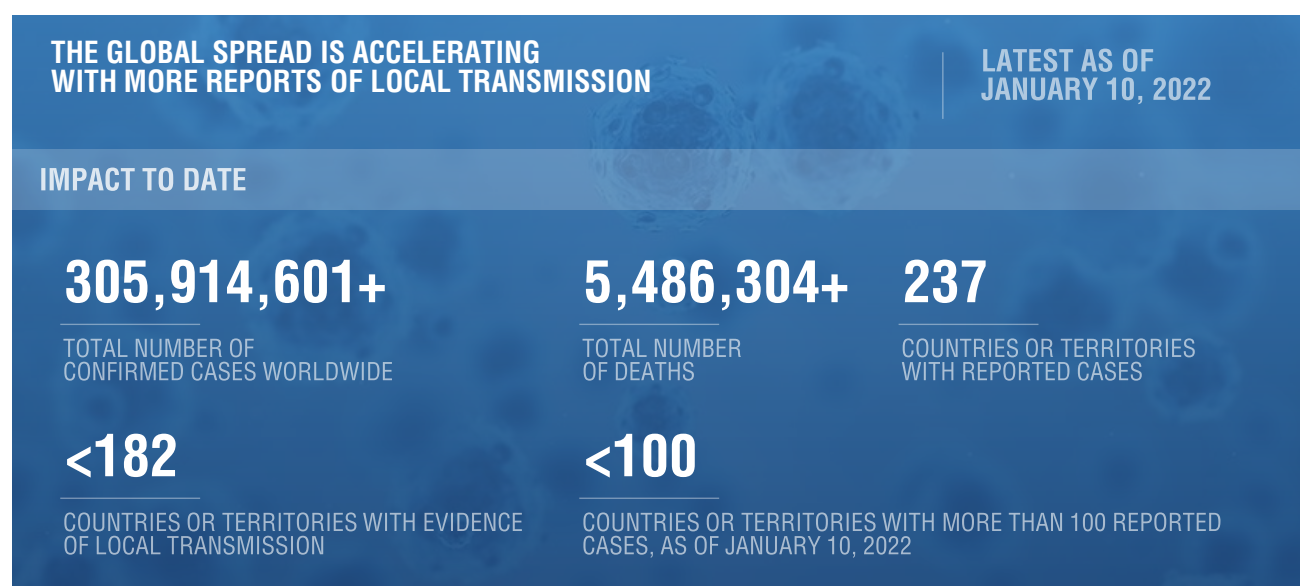

As the virus is spreading rapidly at a global level, countries across the globe are trying to prevent further contagion by adopting measures, such as social distancing, contact tracing, self-quarantining, surveillance, communication, and testing. So far, China, South Korea, Japan, and Singapore have managed to flatten the curve, while the US, Italy, Spain, Germany, France, and Iran have imposed drastic measures to slow down the spread and control fatalities.

Government agencies have announced special financial aid packages for the development of preventive and curative drugs, the purchase of critical care medical devices, and the fast-track approval of diagnostic tests. Various organizations across the globe, such as the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation (BMGF) and Wellcome Trust, are also coming together to accelerate and strengthen the efforts to fight the COVID-19 pandemic.

1.2 COVID-19 HEALTH ASSESSMENT

COVID-19 is an unprecedented crisis creating an enormous strain on healthcare providers across the globe. According to the WHO, within 67 days, the first 100,000 confirmed cases were reported worldwide. It took the first 11 days to reach 200,000 confirmed cases. In the next four days, the number reached 300,000 confirmed cases, while in another 12 days, the count reached one million confirmed cases.

As of January 10, 2022, the virus has spread to more than 221 countries, with over 305,914,601 reported cases and close to 5,486,304 deaths.

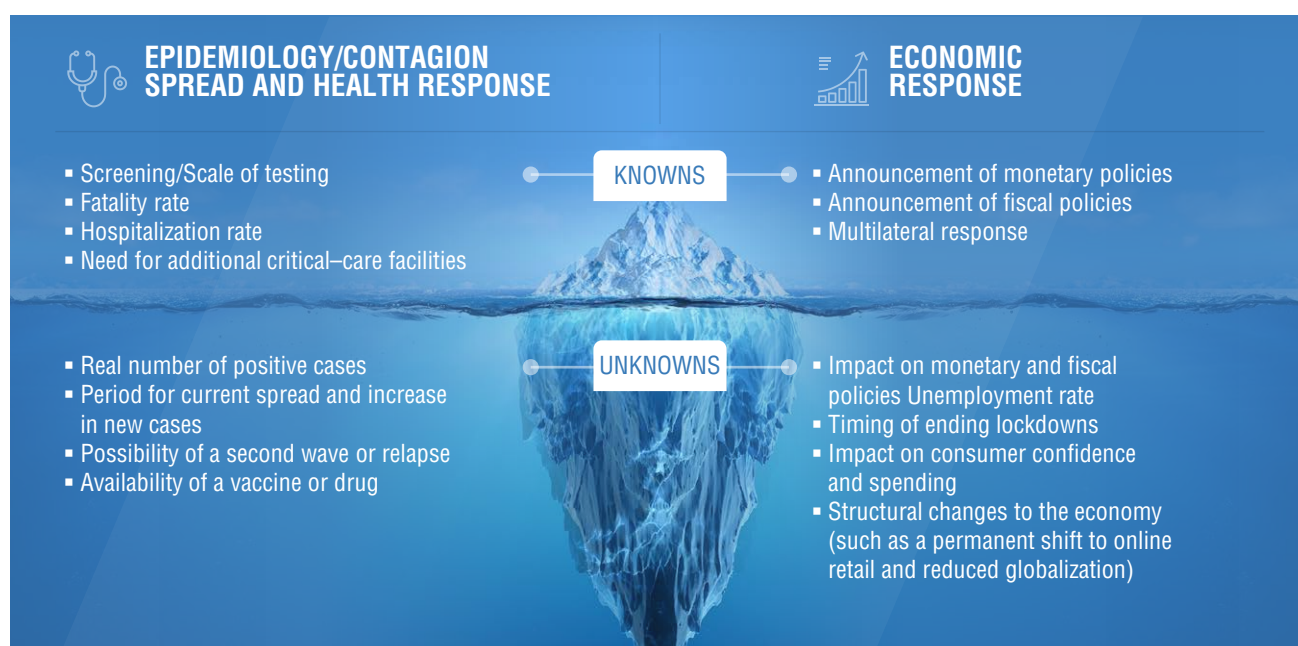

The actual number of infected people is probably higher than the official total, as some mild and asymptomatic cases are not tested and counted.

1.2.1 COVID-19 ECONOMIC IMPACT—SCENARIO ASSESSMENT

Recovery from this crisis largely depends on various knowns and unknowns, which most countries will have to deal with and respond to. The speed and strength of the economic recovery will depend on the health and economic responses and the agility and speed of implementing various measures.

In the recent past, the global economy has become substantially more interconnected. The adverse consequences of various steps related to containment are evident from global supply chain disruptions, weaker demand for imported products and services, and the increase in the unemployment rate. Risk aversion has increased in the financial market, with all-time low interest rates and sharp declines in equity and commodity prices. Consumer and business confidence have also reduced significantly.

This has magnified over time, and the spillover is seen in other countries as well. The latest forecasts by multiple sources predict a 4% decrease in the global Gross Domestic Product (GDP) in 2020 and a slow recovery, making the recession caused by this pandemic worse than the 2009 global recession. Based on these forecasts, the global economy is expected to recover by 2021; however, for some countries, including the US, Germany, and Italy, recovery is predicted to take longer.

In this fast-changing environment, the full impact of the pandemic on the global economy may not entirely be known. MarketsandMarkets uses three scenario-based approaches (epidemiology, health response, and economic response) to assess the economic impact and recovery period at the global level. Countries and regions are expected to have different impacts and recovery periods.

1 EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The purpose of a tax system is not only to collect revenue but also to provide efficiency and fairness in tax collection and ensure enforceability of tax laws. Governments consider the differences in the incomes and needs of various types of businesses, resulting in complex tax regulations. The increasing complexity of tax laws and tedious tax compliance process have enforced a large number of organizations to adopt tax management software for most of their tax needs. Tax management software and services can facilitate effective tax compliance for both direct and indirect taxation.

The implementation of electronic tax filing (eFiling) is considered as a cornerstone in the evolution of taxation systems across the globe. Although eFiling has been around for over two decades, it continues to evolve to rectify loopholes in the tax process. In the 1980s, tax preparers in the US started to use special computers and software as a method to simplify taxation; however, they still have to follow the process of printing the forms and emailing them to Internal Revenue Service (IRS). By 1988, a total of 60,000 tax returns were eFiled from Maryland and Washington, DC. The success convinced the IRS to persuade tax preparers to switch to an eFiling system. In 1990, IRS expanded the eFiling service in the US. This provision of the service resulted in the growth of the total number of eFiled returns, which reached over XX million, by 2013.

5 TAX MANAGEMENT MARKET, BY REGION

5.1 ASIA PACIFIC

APAC is expected to have the fastest growth rate in the tax management market during the forecast period due to its growing technology adoption. ### 5.1.1 CHINA

China has one of the progressive and broadest tax regimes across the world. The tax rate for corporate income in China is XX%. The indirect taxes imposed in China are VAT and consumption taxes. XX% is the VAT rate for small enterprises; XX% for services; XX% for construction, real estate, and other services; and XX% standard rate imposed on several goods. From 1st May 2016, the VAT reform is implemented in the country under which immovable properties, such as intellectual property, are moved under VAT. The state administration of taxation is continuously updating the anti-tax avoidance rules. All these factors have led to boost the adoption of tax management solutions across the country.
